UNSPOILED VIEWS, NOT SPOILED BY A DRIVE UP THE M5.

Holidays direct from Exeter Airport, including Ibiza and Tenerife.

Hello...

Thank you for picking up the second edition of our 2018 magazine which is full of ideas for air travel and holidays.

There have been many changes and enhancements to Exeter Airport in the past 80 years. Under the recent ownership of the Rigby Group we have seen investment in passenger facilities which include a new security area and a new executive lounge. However, the £6m project to resurface the runway and upgrade runway lighting to future-proof the airport for the next 20 years will be ready for the start of the 2018 summer season.

Flybe has an extensive summer schedule with 19 routes and up to 105 departures a week from Exeter to destinations across the UK and mainland Europe. Sun seekers are catered for with routes to Faro, Palma Mallorca, Alicante and Malaga. The mainland Spanish airports have all year round Flybe services from Exeter.

The Flybe schedule also includes daily flights to London City, Amsterdam and Dublin and a four times a week service to Norwich. There's a three times a day service to the Manchester hub which boasts more onward destinations than any other UK airport and passengers can have seamless onward travel to a large selection of global destinations with many airline partners; this means that baggage can be checked-in at Exeter and not picked up until arrival at the final destination on the other side of the world.

TUI is the new name for Thomson and we are pleased that their based Exeter aircraft will fly to a wide range of destinations. The Canary Islands are served all year but in the summer months the flying programme is expanded with Cyprus and the Greek Islands, Spain's Balearic Islands, Portugal and Turkey, and they have flights to destinations where passengers transfer to their TUI cruise ship.

We also have a tempting choice of short breaks and escorted holidays with specialist operators. These include Iceland, Italy, Malta, Madeira and Montenegro.

If you are a fan of winter sports the Alps will be of interest with both TUI and Flybe operating ski flights to Chambéry and Geneva.

Over 40 destinations are on offer from Exeter so I hope we have something that is of interest to you.
